Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on our judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments we consider internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, these financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Canada West Foundation as at December 31, 2010, and its results of operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

Other Matter

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements taken as a whole. The supplementary information included in the Schedule is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

CANADA WEST FOUNDATION

Notes to Financial Statements

Year ended December 31, 2010, with comparative figures for 2009

The Canada West Foundation (the "Foundation") was formed to engage in research and education in the area of economic, social and public policy.

The Foundation is a not-for-profit organization under Section 149(1) of the Income Tax Act and accordingly is not taxable on the revenues it receives and earns from operations.

1. Significant accounting policies:

(a) Cash and cash equivalents:

The Foundation considers all highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to cash or with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash and cash equivalents. These consist of cash and term deposits.

(b) Furniture and equipment:

The computer equipment, phone system and furniture are recorded at cost. Depreciation is provided on a declining balance basis at an annual rate of 30%.

(c) Revenue recognition:

The Foundation follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions. Deferred contributions are revenues received in the current year that are used for projects in the upcoming years.

Special projects, corporate donations and membership revenues are recognized when payments are made or committed. Donations received in kind are recorded at fair market value, determined at the date the donation is made. Endowment contributions are recognized as a direct increase in net assets.

Contributions received are recognized as revenue on special projects when expenditures are incurred.

(d) Investments:

Using the available for sale classification, investments are recorded at fair value at each balance sheet date as established by the closing bid price for trading on the recognized exchange on which the investment is listed or principally traded. Realized interest and dividend income are recognized as they are earned or declared and realized net capital gains or losses are recognized in the statement of revenue and expenses. Unrealized gains or losses are recognized in net assets and are transferred to earnings when the investment is derecognized.

1. Significant accounting policies (continued):

(e) Use of estimates and assumptions:

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reported period. Areas requiring management estimates relate to the fair value of investments, the collectability of accounts receivable and the useful life of furniture and equipment. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

(f) Financial instruments:

All financial instruments are initially recognized at fair value on the balance sheet date. The Foundation has classified each financial instrument into the following categories; held for trading financial assets and liabilities, loans or receivables, held to maturity assets, available for sale financial assets and other financial liabilities. Subsequent measurement of the financial instruments is based on their classification. Unrealized gains and losses on held for trading financial instruments are recognized in earnings. Gains and losses on available for sale financial assets are recognized in net assets and transferred to earnings when the asset is derecognized. The other categories of financial instruments are recognized at amortized costs using the effective interest rate method.

The Foundation has classified cash and cash equivalents as held for trading, accounts receivable as loans and receivables, investments as available for sale, and accounts payable and accrued liabilities as other liabilities.

2. Future change in accounting policies:

Prior to January 1, 2012, the Foundation will need to choose between two forms of GAAP:

- (i) International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), or
- (ii) Accounting Standards for Not-For-Profit organizations (Part III of the CICA Handbook).

The Foundation is in the process of assessing the differences between current Canadian GAAP and these two potential alternatives and the potential impact to the financial statements.

3. Financial instruments:

(a) Fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities:

Financial instruments include cash, term deposits, accounts receivable, and accounts payable and accrued liabilities and approximate their carrying value because of the short term nature of these instruments. Investments are recorded at fair value.

(b) The Foundation has exposure to the following risks from its use of financial instruments:

(i) Credit risk:

The Foundation's maximum exposure to credit risk is on cash, term deposits, accounts receivable and the investment in the endowment fund noted above.

Credit risk relates to the possibility that a loss may occur from the failure of another party to perform according to the terms of a contract. Cash consists of cash bank balances; the term deposit represents a short-term investment with a Canadian commercial bank. Credit risk for accounts receivable and the fund investment is the risk that the obligation will fail to be discharged causing the Foundation to incur a financial loss. Credit risk is minimized by ensuring that term deposits are limited to amounts covered by insurance limits, that credit is only extended to those entities that management believes has the financial capacity to pay obligations due to the Foundation, and the fund investment are diversified across different classes of assets and are such investments are managed by professional managers.

Management and the Board of Directors of the Foundation periodically review its investments to ensure that the credit risk assumed is appropriate.

(ii) Liquidity risk:

Liquidity is the risk that the Foundation will encounter difficulty in raising donations or liquidity investments to meet commitments or protect its assets. Management controls liquidity risk through cash flow projections used to forecast funding requirements for its financial instruments.

(iii) Market risk:

Current and future investments in the endowment fund are subject to market risk due to changes in the value of investments in the fund. Fluctuations in general market interest rates have an impact on investments returns in the term deposits and fixed income investments in the endowment fund.

(iv) Interest rate risk:

The Foundation is exposed to interest rate risk relating to the income earned on its interest bearing investments as most of these investments have a fixed interest rate for a specified period of time. A 1% reduction in interest rates would reduce the interest income earned by $81,395.
